

Caravan Parks / Hire

Caravans are usually a fairly expensive accommodation option. Their advantage is that they usually have their own kitchen facilities and can sleep a larger number of people, however bathrooms are usually shared. Most caravan parks will only allow you to stay for a short period of time because they are generally for tourists however some offer longer term accommodation that is cheaper. Usually there are different prices for caravans, cabins or camping sites. Here is a list of some parks in the metropolitan area or look in the Yellow Pages under "Caravan parks" for a larger listing. Prices at caravan parks may vary and they can get pretty full during school holidays. It is usually the cheapest if you hire a caravan and then hire a site at a caravan park.

What about hiring a caravan?

If you have friends or family who wouldn't mind if you lived in a caravan in their backyard or driveway then hiring a caravan can become a cheap accommodation option. Contact your local council (addresses and phone numbers in the Yellow Pages) If it is long-term you will need Council approval and to pay them a fee. For up to 6 months the fee charged by the Council would be a one off charge of approx $80, 6 to 12 months would be a one off charge of approx $140.

You will need a bond to hire a van, which can be cash or from Housing SA.

For a larger listing of caravan and camper trailer hire, see the Yellow Pages.
